BOY HIT BY AUTO

DORIS ABARTA IS SERIOUSLY INJURED IN FRONT OF SIXTH STREET SCHOOL

Glendale had its third auto accident since Sunday, Wednesday at noon. A group of school children playing on the street in front of the Sixth Street school was run into by an auto and one of their number thrown to the ground and seriously injured. The other children were fortunate enough to escape without being struck though some of them are said to have had very narrow escapes from the wheels.

The boy who was injured is Doris Abarta, son of V. R. Abarta, packing-house foreman, 418 S. Kenwood. The auto struck him on the face and cut him badly. His shoulders also are bruised badly and there is a possibility that the spine is injured. It is not possible at present to ascertain if there are any internal injuries and the medical attendants will not be able to pronounce on the case for three days or so.

The auto that was the cause of the accident was driven by Mrs. F. B. Walker, of 1100 Chestnut street. She was driving at an ordinary pace and it is believed that the boy, playing with his companions, unconsciously ran in front of the machine. Mrs. Walker picked him up and conveyed him to his home, where he was promptly attended to by Drs. Flint and Teel and given all the attention necessary. It is probable that he will recover.

Mrs. Walker says that she was running at about 12 miles an hour and that when she came in sight of the group of boys playing in front of the school she sounded her horn several times loudly. The children heard the horn and separated. She drove carefully up steering between the two groups into which the children had separated when suddenly the Abarta boy rushed in front of the auto and was hit and injured. Mrs. Walker is dreadfully distressed about the accident but holds that she was blameless.

It has been definitely ascertained that the accident took place one block away from the Sixth Street school, at the corner of Fifth and Louise.

EAST BROADWAY SALE

H. A. Wilson, real estate, 912 W. Broadway, has successfully concluded the sale of the southeast corner of Adams and Broadway. The purchaser is Mr. K. C. Sippel, contractor and builder, 334 S. Adams street. Mr. Sippel is a firm believer in the future of that section of Glendale. He now owns considerable property there. It is his firm belief in the development of the section around East Broadway that has led to his periodical purchases there. He says that when the Pacific-Electric railway shall have extended its line to the Childs' tract and the street has been widened in accordance with the plans recently passed by the city trustees there will be a boom in property in that region that will astonish those who have had little faith in that part of the city. Already there is noticeable a trend of population thitherward. When the Sycamore Canyon road has been improved to take care of the flood water there will not be any more desirable residence section of Glendale.

JAPS PAY THEIR FINES

Before Judge Whomes Wednesday afternoon two Japanese, E. Ozano and S. Made, who were charged with having disturbed the peace by making outrageous noises, quarreling and using profane language, plead guilty. They were unable to speak English but being informed through a sworn interpreter of the nature of the charge they insisted on pleading guilty. They instructed the interpreter to state that they had been drinking and knew that they had not conducted themselves in a gentlemanly manner. In fact they had completely forgotten Japanese "bushido" and descended to the level of any outer barbarian. In consideration of this trespass on paternal principles they asked the honorable judge to impose on them such fine as he thought would fittingly mark their temporary aberration as reprehensible. Judge Whomes fined them each $10 and they thanked him heartily for his fatherly correction.

Glendale society is not only observing Lent most assiduously, but this week every society matron and maid is attending the Federation of Woman's clubs, which is holding the annual convention in Hollywood.

CHARM OF "BEN HUR"

MRS. CORAL HARRISON SLOAN'S SPECTACULAR DRAMATIZATION HAS ATTRACTIVE FEATURES

Wonderful progress has been made in the arrangements and rehearsals for the production of Mrs. Coral Harrison Sloan's spectacular dramatization of Lew Wallace's great novel "Ben Hur." New scenery that is costing between $500 and $600 will form appropriate settings for the many striking scenes in this clever presentation.

Work on the elaborate costumes for the production is now nearly completed and in this matter alone the production will rank with the best ever seen on the professional stage. The stage preparations are elaborate and effective. Historical details have been carried out with great faithfulness to the period in which the spectacle is supposed to take place—the early years of the Christian era.

How careful Mrs. Sloan has been to get even the minutest details perfect may be seen in the fact that the chorus sung by the Jewish sanhedrin when it appears before Herod, is the ancient Hebrew music preserved in the Hebrew church and arranged and reproduced by Rabbi Sirata, the cantor of the Warsaw, Russian-Poland synagogue choir.

In the famous sea scene a striking reproduction of a Roman galley will be shown. This is the "Astraea" of the novel, which the pirates sink. After the sinking of the galley another striking scene is shown where Ben Hur and the Roman are seen floating on an extemporized raft.

Mrs. Sloan has been unusually successful in gathering together local talent of many kinds. Two hundred and fifty persons will figure in the great spectacle. One of the attractive dances in the Grove of Daphne is given by two little girls. One of these is a girl of little more than five years of age, Patricia St. Clair, who is two years younger than the youngest of the performers and joining last of all has made, under Mrs. Sloan's careful tuition, wonderful progress as a dancer and will be one of the prominent features of that scene.

Another child who has been discovered by Mrs. Sloan is Florence Rattray, who has a marvelously sweet voice, "like a juvenile Jenny Lind," Mrs. Sloan says. Florence is only nine years of age, yet she sings with a sympathy of voice and comprehension of her subject worthy of a much older student.

The sale of tickets is gratifying as many parties from Los Angeles, Alhambra and Pasadena have already made application. There is no doubt that this spectacular dramatization to be given March 30 and 31 is to be one of the great shows of the season.

SOMETHING GREAT FOR GLENDALE

Probably few people of Glendale know how our Jewel City was advertised last week. A group of Christian Endeavorers from Glendale—42 from the Presbyterian church, 11 from the Christian church and 6 from the Congregational went to the Annual County Convention at Whittier and were successful in landing the next convention at Glendale, which will be held March 15-17, 1917. This means that over 2000 young people will be here and Glendale will be advertised far and wide. Los Angeles County Christian Endeavor is the largest organized County Union in the United States, there being over 350 societies and 10,000 members.

The Place of Meeting committee at Whittier received letters from our Glendale Chamber of Commerce, the Board of Trustees, the Ministerial Union and a telegram from Mayor Lane, all very heartily favoring the idea of the 1917 convention coming here. It will mean far more to Glendale and this whole valley than we can realize. The Congregational society had started a Convention fund before the delegates arrived home from Whittier. The other societies will start a fund at once. Under the efficient direction of Mr. Stafford as chairman, 2500 booster slips were distributed and hard work done to secure the 1917 convention, plans for which are already being made.

Secretary.

WOMEN'S HIGH IDEALS

LARGE CONTINGENT OF GLENDALE CLUBWOMEN ATTEND FEDERATION AT HOLLYWOOD

Much interest is being taken by the leading clubwomen of Glendale in the sessions of the Los Angeles district convention, California Federation of Woman's clubs, which is meeting in Hollywood. Wednesday was the great day of the whole convention. There were 750 women in attendance.

The following ladies of the Tuesday Afternoon club of Glendale were present: Mesdames C. E. Anderson, Fred Baker, H. E. Bartlett, H. F. Berteson, Luther Brown, Helen Campbell, H. Lee Clotworthy, Arthur Cross, W. E. Evans, Benjamin Logan, H. D. Goss, C. E. Harlan, Mattison B. Jones and Miss Winifred Jones; Edgar Leavitt, P. S. McNutt, Mabel Franklin Ocker, S. C. Packer, L. C. Rice, Charles H. Ritchie, G. H. Rowe, Dr. Jessie Russell, J. W. Usilton, A. L. Weaver, Harriet M. White and J. R. White, Jr.

One prominent feature of the day's proceedings was the defense of clubwomen made by Mrs. Edward Dexter Knight, State president of the Federation, who stated that clubwomen's ideals were high and that the members of the various State federations contributed fewer divorce incidents to the world than any other class of society.

The gathering heard two forcible speeches against "Preparedness" by Zona Gale and Mrs. Frank A. Stephens. Today will bring up such live topics as government manufacture of armor plate, child labor and the revival of the poll tax. Many of the Glendale ladies will be in attendance.

PASADENA HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY OFFERS VASES FOR OCCASION

The ladies of the Foothill club of North Glendale have decided to send an exhibit to the Flower Show, thereby materially enhancing the attractiveness of the interior. The Tropico Chamber of Commerce are at present considering the form of exhibit to send as representative of Tropico; and through the genial exertions of Mr. E. F. Peters, secretary, the Flower Show is being energetically advertised and encouraged throughout our sister city. The secretary of the Pasadena Horticultural Society has written his compliments upon the dignified schedule of exhibits prepared for the Glendale Flower show. The Pasadena society has been gracious and helpful in many ways to the officials of the Glendale Garden Society.

Among other kindly acts, Pasadena has offered to loan their specially manufactured vases and receptacles for cut flowers, etc., for the use of the Glendale Free Flower Show,—thereby saving the Garden Society much anxiety and money. It is being planned that the officers, members and friends of the Garden Society should visit the Pasadena Flower Show, Friday, April 14. If several automobile loads would all start together and the Glendale folks visit the Pasadena Show in a body, the importance of Glendale would be emphasized. Various residents have already signified their readiness to fill up their automobiles with friends and join the merry party. Doubtless many valuable hints will be gathered from this visit to the Pasadena Show, which occurs one week before the Glendale Show.

Many Los Angeles parties are already being planned to visit Glendale during the Free Flower Show. Mr. Thomas, traffic manager of the Pacific Electric Railroad, has promised to bring out a party of friends. Chief Snively of the Los Angeles police force is also arranging a visit to Glendale with his family and friends. Miss Maud Morris of 410 S. Mariposa will bring some Eastern visitors; Mr. Theo Bessing and family, Mr. Edwin T. Earl and others are planning to visit Glendale during the Free Flower Show. The more the merrier. Let Glendale prepare itself to receive its visitors with cordial hospitality.

CARL ANDERSON RECOVERING

Carl Anderson, son of W. A. Anderson, 407 S. Isabel, who recently had his left leg amputated at the Clara Barton hospital, Los Angeles, has been taken to Santa Monica to a private sanitarium to be under the care of a specialist in blood diseases. At the hospital young Anderson suffered from septic infection of the amputated limb and his life was despaired of. He was then brought home to Glendale and under the care of his own people has recovered sufficiently to be taken yesterday to Santa Monica in an ambulance. It is believed he is slowly recovering.

IRELAND IN HIS STRIDE

EVANGELIST MAKES DEEP IMPRESSION BY INCISIVE TALK

"Why, bless me, if you are not better than some church people I know you ought to be in San Quentin wearing stripes." This was the way Evangelist Ireland, last night at the First Methodist church, answered the old threadbare excuse, "I'm as good as some people in the church."

The sermon last night was on "Excuses," and all the old stock excuses given by all classes were riddled and hung on the fence. "Men in California give dozens of excuses for their irreligious lives; but here everything conspires to encourage and nothing to discourage. Yet many come into life, pass through it and shuffle off without Christ. God has no favorites. The divine grace and gospel are not for a few but for all. That is divine election.

"The sin of unbelief ruins more people religiously than gambling, profanity, impurity and drunkenness combined. You say you are a good citizen and pay your debts? You ought to pay your debts. You are no better than other men because you do that. Every decent man ought to do that. That does not make you a Christian. Many who are rascals in other respects do that.

"Don't talk to me about your church membership, your creed, your baptism or your fantastic theology. Character developed under control of the spirit of God is the only mark of the Christian.

"You say there are hypocrites in the church. Of course there are. Did you ever know any good thing which was not counterfeited? A banker once said to me, 'I would not join that bunch you are preaching to; there are too many hypocrites.' A day or two later he called me into his bank and showed me a spurious Eagle and I said, 'Well, I suppose you will go out of the banking business now.' 'Why,' said he, 'what do you mean?' I replied, 'Surely you will not go on doing business with honest money since you have discovered a hypocrite coin.' Throwing up his hands he said, 'You've got me.' Don't you hide behind some old hypocrite. I know there is shoddy and sham, as there is shoddy and sham in your lodges. You pick out the old spavined, ringboned, knock-kneed, near-sighted Christian who has never caught a vision of God's full grace. You ought to be ashamed of yourself. The great majority that I know of Christ's followers are genuine. Maybe you go to church and drop a nickle in the plate and sing, 'When we asunder part it gives us inward pain.' Get out from behind such.

"You talk about your respectability. God does not care about your pedigree. Some people take a jitney to a card party. How many of you call up a jitney to go to prayer meeting?"

Evangelist Ireland hit his stride last night. All his powers of wit, pathos and argument were utilized in his intense and tremendous appeal. He uncovered the weaknesses of church members, and poured broadside after broadside into the excuses of non-Christians.

The congregation was large and came completely under the sway of the speaker. The interest in the meetings is spreading and deepening. Much good is being accomplished.

The large chorus choir is doing splendid work in leading the music. Last evening Dr. J. Marple of Los Angeles sang very effectively two tenor solos. This evening Mrs. Cammack will sing; also a male quartet.

THE MOZART QUINTETTE

What is certain to prove a pleasing and artistic presentation of Mozart music will be given Wednesday, April 12, by "The Mozart Quintette," which has its headquarters at 318 Everett street, Glendale. The concert will be given in the Palace-Grand theater. The quintette is composed of Leopold Arno Hundhammer and Wolfgang Ludwig Reher, violins; Amadeus Otto Hundhammer, viola; Ludwig von Wallenstein, 'cello; Giuseppe Raimondi, clarinet. The following program will be presented.

Mozart, "String Quartet in D" (violin, viola and 'celio).

Spohr, "Adagio from 8th Concerto."

Tschaikowski, "Nur, Wer Die Sehnsucht Kennt." Violin solo.

Mozart, Clarinet Quintette.

The choice of a vice president never attracts any attention, but so far the delegates have always remembered to put one in nomination before leaving for their homes.

GRADE CROSSING CONDITIONS

During the year ended June 30, 1914, the railroads reporting to the Interstate Commerce commission killed and injured 4900 people at grade crossings. The number of deaths and injuries from this cause is yearly increasing notwithstanding the efforts made to prevent such accidents. The railroads in addition to spending millions of dollars to separate grades to protect crossings have been making a determined campaign to educate the public and their own employes to the dangers of crossings. Many states, especially in the east, have appropriated large sums of money to assist local bodies and the railroads in separating grades.

One state, New Jersey, has passed a law prohibiting the construction of new grade crossings and providing for the elimination by degrees of those already in existence. Flagmen and gates have been installed by the thousand. The old type of crossing bell has given place to the more effective automatic flagman; but in spite of all these precautions the number of grade crossing accidents is increasing.

Grade crossing conditions are worse in California than in any other state in the union. In 1914, California, with less than 4 per cent of the population of the country and less than 2 per cent of the steam railway mileage, furnished nearly 5 per cent of the deaths and injuries due to grade crossing accidents on steam railroads. That, at least, is the percentage reported to the Commission. It was likely even higher than that.

It is certain that a great deal of this increase in accident is due to the advent of the automobile. Thousands of people now drive automobiles who have had no experience in driving any kind of a vehicle before this. Out of this large proportion of new drivers abounding in inexperience it is no wonder that accidents are frightfully common. It seems the height of folly to place the control of a highpower engine in the hands of persons who barely understand the mechanism of the force they are supposed to control.

This increased traffic on the roads caused by this wonderful new power has naturally increased the number of grade crossing accidents. In California the situation is worse than in any other state. California ranks third among the states in the number of its automobiles. It compares favorably with any state in the mileage of its improved roads. It has a large automobile tourist traffic unfamiliar with its highways and it has a climate that permits the use of automobiles every day in the year. Its suburban trains, especially in the south, are numerous and are run at high speeds, and the topography of the country in the valleys where the population is greatest, train service most frequent and improved highways most numerous, rarely permits of grade separations being made without the expenditure of large sums of money.

To separate grades at all the crossings in California would cost $300,000,000 and the interest on that sum at 6 per cent would be $10,000,000 a year, or an annual per capita tax on the people of the state of $6. It can easily be seen that the price is prohibitive. There remains only the alternative of improving conditions and this has been done so effectually that in 1915 there was a decrease of more than 12 per cent in the total number of injured. The work of the commission also in safeguarding the old crossings and refusing permits for new ones is going to be highly beneficial.

CONDITIONS IN HOLLAND

Holland is occupied with two very important questions at the present time, one is the attitude of Germany toward it and the other the question of reclaiming the Zuyder Zee. The first question is one of great seriousness and the Hollanders, a naturally grave and deliberate people, are pondering the matter with due attention to its importance. The Hollanders believe that Germany is determined, if possible, to force Holland into the war, by overt acts against the shipping of the Dutch nation.

Recently several Dutch vessels and one great liner have been sunk under circumstances that point very plainly to submarines and the resentment of the Dutch against the Germans is naturally very keen. There is no doubt that Germany desires to annex Holland. At present she holds Antwerp, which is of little use to her as long as Holland remains neutral and independent. The Dutch believe that Germany deliberately sank the Dutch ships that have been destroyed recently for the purpose of forcing Holland into declaring war against the kaiser. In that case, say the German war speculators, there would be litle trouble in seizing Holland, which would immediately become a base for war against Britain.

Under these conditions Holland is pondering deeply what ought to be her policy. This consideration is for the moment overshadowing the equally important problem of what to do to reclaim the Zuyder Zee. The recent disastrous floods on the Zuyder Zee coast were due to the driving of the waves of the sea through the narrow neck of the Zee. The waters driven in and kept in by the wind piled up higher and higher until at last the tremendous pressure broke the dikes in many places and flooded vast tracts of country.

The Dutch engineers now plan to drain the Zee by building an embankment at its mouth and pumping out all the salt water. At the center of the inclosed area the river Ijsel and other streams will empty into a basin forming a fresh water lake. This scheme would give a vast area of reclaimed land and add largely to the natural wealth of the country. The reclaimed land would amount to 815 square miles. The work would occupy 33 years and would cost $100,000,000. Meantime the threat of war gives pause to this most excellent project.

While Zona Gale and other feminists are describing the beauties of unpreparedness to the assembled club women at Hollywood, Gen. Funston, Gen. Pershing and Colonel Dodd are experiencing the difficulties that have been created for the American army in its difficult task in Mexico simply because nothing had been prepared for such an emergency. It looks now as though Taft's original estimate that it would require 300,000 soldiers for a Mexican expedition was not far from the truth.

MIRACLES

That far dim yesterday by Galilee,
The deaf were made to hear, the blind to see,
The lame to walk, the dumb to speak and sing;
The dead were called to life, new joy to bring
To broken hearts. 'Twas thus He walked with men.
Oh, wondrous yesterday! Would it were now, as then.

The buds begin to burst, the streams to sing,
The sparrows' eggs to unfold feathery wing;
The ripened fruit swift follows billowy flower,
The garnered sheaf now marks the autumn hour;
The fall of down will cover winter grain,
The sun return us mist, and snow, and rain—
And we stand idly by, nor pause to say,
"We thank Thee for the miracles today."

—Nannie Lee Frayser.

FAMOUS WALKERS

There have been some famous pedestrians, with the emphasis on the word famous. Charles Dickens was a great walker. "Twelve, fifteen, even twenty miles a day were none too much for Dickens . . . swinging swinging his blackthorn stick, his little figure sprang forward over the ground, and it took a practiced pair of legs to keep alongside of his voice." He once did a "special feat of turning out of bed at two, after a hard day, pedestrian and otherwise, and walking thirty miles into the country for breakfast."

Sir Walter Scott "walked twenty or thirty miles without fatigue, notwithstanding his limp." Browning, when past seventy, could take long walks without fatigue, and Wordsworth, at three score, did twenty miles a day. DeQuincey considered fourteen miles a day necessary to his health, and Lamb, notwithstanding his "almost immaterial legs," "could walk during all the day." Brahms was a tireless pedestrian, and Beethoven always took his daily walk, or "run," of five or more miles in all manner of weathers, while Turner traveled twenty miles a day, sketching as he walked. Herbert Spencer, at thirteen, in a fit of homesickness walked forty-eight miles one day and forty-seven the next; but was probably injured in so doing. Tolstoy, at fifty-eight, walked a hundred and thirty miles in three days.

SHAWLS NOW IN FASHION

Priscilla doesn't give a rap
For wraps of any sort;
Yet everyone is wearing wraps,
They're Fashion's strongest forts.
To still be chic, escape a cape
And give a sacque the sack,
Priscilla solved with much finesse,
Also a deal of tact;
Indeed, she's doubly fashionable,
Yet not a wrap she bought—
Her brow is mantled with a blush
And she is wrapped in thought.

NEW YORK, March 22.—Shawl I or shawl I not? That's the present sartorial question. The Spanish flavor in our dressing, the quaint "befo' the war" touches of the hoops and crinoline have called forth from layers of tissue paper and old lavender those graceful fringed squares that wrapped our grandmothers in cashmere and romance.

There are exquisite gossamer lace shawls, black or white, for wear with the fluffy ruffles of our summer organdies; lovely pastel tinted crepe shawls with deep silk fringe, as well as shawls of Chinese origin.

Of course the exotic beauties of the brilliantly embroidered Spanish shawls are in great demand by all that contingent of stunning brunettes who affect long drooping earrings and langorous glances. Even the maid of sports has fallen for the shawl in the shape of the warm merino plaidie of old Scotland. There is such a fad for cunning little capes that it is indeed a determined and square set of feminine shoulders that can escape their lure.

Taffeta seems the favorite medium for these fascinating frivolities and most of the capes are ruffled. They are all ridiculously short and inconsequential and therefore coquettish. One of peach color taffeta is simply three tiers of ruffles with another high ruffle turned up around the neck for a collar. Two tiny artificial peaches tied with a knot and long dangling ends of narrow picot edged old blue ribbon are set at the back of the collar.

Another contrasting type is a plain little fitted cape of grey taffeta, rose lined with a ruching around its shoulder length finish and a roll collar that reveals the rose lining. Then there are the quaint little silk coatees and sacques of 1830. Worn with summer frocks they are irresistible. One of apple green faille has flaring bell sleeves and a flaring little peplum edged all about with a quilling of ribbon.

Another little basque like sacque of bronze faille is finished in a cording and fastens at the waist line with two tiny oranges. Long coats of faille belted in at the waist line with voluminous skirts and long capes of taffeta for evening wear fully as full as the barrel skirt beneath them add variety to the wrap family. Surely with such an assortment to choose from everyone can be wrapped in her own personality.

Personals

Miss Mildred E. Carey of Los Angeles was the guest Wednesday of Miss Olive Pixley of 509 Columbus avenue.

The teachers of the Glendale city schools are making preparations for entertainments to be given on the evenings of April 27 and 28. You will regret it if you make other plans for these dates.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Carrol McCurdy of 1425 Burchett street are rejoicing over the arrival of a handsome nine and three-quarter pounds baby boy that came to them Wednesday, March 22, at the Methodist Episcopal hospital in Los Angeles.

Mrs. Flora Pixley has returned to her home, 509 Columbus avenue, from a three weeks' delightful visit to her daughter, Mrs. W. P. Mac Arthur, at the latter's ranch on the Mojave desert. Mrs. Pixley is quite enthusiastic over the delightful climate and the wonderful development of the great desert that lies just beyond Tehachepi.

Miss Alice Frank, who recently completed a profitable moving picture engagement to join the acting staff of the Egan Dramatic school, has been appointed to act as an information agent for that school, which is making arrangements that will lead to the formation of classes in this city in connection with the school. Those wishing this information can call Miss Frank at 419-J.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Campbell of Ard Eevin, North Glendale; Mr. and Mrs. Mattison B. Jones, and Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Bartlett, were guests at the great banquet Wednesday evening, at the Hollywood hotel, when the women of the Federation of Woman's clubs entertained their husbands, for the first time as a federation. Mrs. Campbell is first vice-president of the Tuesday Afternoon club, Mrs. Mattison B. Jones is a former president of the club and Mrs. Bartlett is the present president.

TROPICO

Mrs. Clyde R. Carmack and her house guest, Dr. Lenora K. Bates of Glenn Ranch, enjoyed "Ramona" at Clunes Auditorium Monday evening.

After a delightful visit of several weeks as the guest of Mrs. Allen E. Boyce of South Brand boulevard, Mrs. Faye Gordon returned to her home in Long Beach Thursday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Eustace Benton Moore of Blanche avenue were among the guests who were so charmingly entertained by Mrs. Gertrude Riley at her home on Pasadena avenue, Los Angeles, Tuesday evening, when Mrs. Riley entertained the Dorcas club and their husbands, complimentary to her sister, Mrs. Nellie West of Pasadena, who leaves shortly for Colorado.

Mrs. Myra Hoyt has arrived from her home in Portland, Oregon, and is the house guest of her neice, Mrs. Archie Harrison, of Blanche avenue.

Mrs. J. E. Bahrenburg of "Twin Pines," West Park avenue, is spending a few days at Oneonta Park as the guest of her son and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Norman C. Bahrenberg.

Mr. Wm. C. Wattles of 332 N. Glendale avenue, Tropico, announces his candidacy for the office of Trustee of the Tropico Grammar Schools at the election to be held April 7. The polls will be open at the Laurel Street school from 2 to 6 p. m.

"PRINCE AND PAUPER"

Tickets for Marguerite Clark in the "Prince and the Pauper," to be given tomorrow, Friday, at the Palace Grand, are selling like hot cakes. Better secure your tickets beforehand and get in line early, if you want a seat. Three performances will be held; one matinee at 3:30, and the regular two evening shows. Usual prices.

The Garden Society hopes by this benefit to raise sufficient funds to pay for the awards and prizes to be given at the Free Flower Show. No Glendale merchants have been solicited to contribute towards the Flower and Vegetable show; no local firms have been asked for money or donations of any kind. In Pasadena, Sierra Madre, Santa Monico, etc., the local firms get behind the Flower Show and back it up in every way.

The benefit on Friday at the Palace Grand affords the residents and merchants of Glendale an easy and self-profitable way of assisting the Free Flower Show; for it naturally results, that the more financial backing the Flower Show obtains, the finer and more dignified impression will be made upon the public by the city in which we live and in which our commercial and investment interests are centered. So let us have crowded houses tomorrow, Friday; give yourselves an evening of pure enjoyment, and incidentally you will be lending a helping hand to advertising your own community. Every child will be presented with free candy.—Nanno Woods, President.

THERE WILL BE a Food Sale on Saturday, at the Quality Grocery, conducted by the St. Mark's Woman's guild. All kinds of home-cooked foods. 181t2

GLENDALE FOOTHILLS

Twenty members were in attendance at the Parent's Reading Circle, which met in the home of Mrs. C. H. Toll, Kenneth road, Wednesday afternoon. The following new members were admitted: Mrs. Cassell, Mrs. McDaniels, N. Maryland; and Mrs. Martin. The reading of Elizabeth Harrison's interesting volume on "Child Nature" was continued to the profit of the members. The circle busied itself during the afternoon in making a quilt for a sick lady, who is a friend of many of the members and is confined to her room. Under the deft fingers of the twenty ladies present a very handsome quilt was speedily completed.

Central Avenue Parent-Teacher association is delighted with the great success that attended its entertainment last Friday afternoon and evening. Quite a goodly sum was added to the finances of the association. The children gave a most pleasing program and everyone was charmed with the excellent piano playing of Mr. Richard Berry of North Glendale, who played three selections.

Mrs. Crossin, 1421 Valley View road, has been quite seriously ill for two weeks past. It is believed that she is suffering from blood poisoning. She has been taken to the Pacific hospital, Los Angeles. Her many friends will be pleased to learn that she is showing signs of improvement this week.

REMEMBRANCE

The new can never quite efface the old,
For always in our thoughts the old love clings,
And always in our hearts when all is told
Remembrance sings.

Scenes of our busy lives may change and shift,
Yet with an inner vision we descry
Some quiet landscape where the green hills lift
To meet the sky.

Some house that made our home through happy years,
Some mother heart of love, unfailing, true,
Some room that held the deepest hopes and fears
Our living knew.

Then grim Today may grip us, gaunt and bold,
And bend us with the weight of present things—
Deep in the heart of each when all is told
Remembrance sings.

—Eleanor C. Hull, in The People's Home Journal.

HYMN FOR ARBOR DAY

God save this tree we plant!
And to all nature grant
Sunshine and rain.
Let not its branches fade,
Save it from axe and spade,
Save it for joyful shade—
Guarding the plain.

When it is ripe to fall,
Neighbored by trees as tall,
Shape it for.
Shape it to bench and stool,
Shape it to square and rule,
Shape it for home and school,
God bless the wood.

Lord of the earth and sea,
Prosper our planted tree,
Save with Thy might.
Save us from indolence,
Waste and improvidence,
And in Thy excellence,
Lead us aright.

—Henry Hanby Hay.

GIRL PLUMBERS

The girls of the Hollywood High School, in the suburbs of Los Angeles, California, are given a course in practical plumbing. The girls were delighted with the innovation, many of them being more interested in the plumbing course than in their other studies.

To some persons it may seem strange that soft hands hose most strenuous work heretofore has been embroidering of college pillows or making attractive middy suits should turn with so much enthusiasm to iron wrenches and dripping, splashing hydrants, but the girls argue that a capable housewife should be able to repair the leaks in her kitchen, if necessary, and read her water meter intelligently to know whether her bills are correct or not.

Their teachers agree with them. And the result is a course that will enable California housewives to stop escaping gas and clean congested sinks and know the difference between the use of granite and aluminum to save unnecessary expense, and generally to extend their ability as expert housekeepers.—The Independent.

A TEA COSY

As summer approaches one will think of porch parties and tea. A dainty embroidered tea cosy will be of great help in keeping the tea pot hot for the welcome guest. It should be made of white linen and embroidered in appropriate colors.

The tea cosy should be well padded to secure the desired results. Cut four pieces of muslin the same size as the linen, except for the scallops. Put a thick layer of cotton between two of the pieces, turn in the edges all around and stitch across the straight edge. Repeat for the other two pieces, then stitch both together around the curved edges. Slip inside the linen cover and tack in position.—Frances A. Harris, in The People's Home Journal.

A VALUABLE FOREST PRODUCT

The American pioneers made rifle stocks of maple, but back in 1861 at a convention of gunsmiths held in Atlanta, Georgia, it was asserted that black walnut is superior to all hardwoods for gun manufacture. Miles of fence rails were brought for the black walnut in them during the Civil War, and beams were taken out of old barns and mills—for gun stock material must be air-dried for twenty years before being used. A roof of black walnut shingles in Virginia has shed the rain successfully for seventy-fice years. A black walnut beam in the Alamo at San Antonio, Texas, was perfectly sound when the building was restored in 1912, after a period of 125 years. The European war accounts for the price obtained for two partially decayed black walnut trees in the Arkansas National Forest—$20 per 1000 feet on the stump—the highest price ever given for any unfinished hardwood.

PEOPLE'S BIBLE CLASS

The great success that has attended the People's Bible class of the First Presbyterian church is very gratifying to the Rev. W. E. Edmonds, pastor of the church, who organized that body. The sessions have been attended by increasing numbers. The Rev. Dr. J. R. Pratt of Pasadena, who is teaching the class, will lecture Thursday night on the "Covenant With the Seed of David." The lecture course is on Romans and is attracting much interest, which is deepening as the work goes on. All who can and will come are heartily welcome.

LA CRESCENTA

The Bridge club met at the home of Mrs. A. W. Brown Wednesday afternoon, eight members being present.

Mrs. C. F. Sawyer, district chairman of the Educational department of the P. T. A., will be the chief speaker at a meeting to be given under the auspices of the local P. T. A. at the new school building (tonight) Friday. The subject of her address will be "Character Building." Mrs. Thomas will also be a speaker.

New School Dedicated

One of the most noteworthy occasions of the past year was the dedication of the new La Crescenta school building last Friday evening. The meeting was arranged for by the school directors, Messrs. Hubbard, Bissell and Thompson, assisted by the Parent-Teacher association. The school was filled to capacity, about three hundred being present. The principal speakers of the evening were: Rev. Theodore Hopping, P. T. Dyer and Mr. Wheat of the County Board of Education. In addition a most excellent program was given, which included a couple of reels of instructive moving pictures; solos by Roger Brown and Miss Margaret Hauber; a recitation by Miss Dorothy Cloud and a piano solo by Miss Ethel Lewenstein. Music was also furnished by the Monte Vista Valley band. Refreshments consisting of lemonade punch, ice cream, cake and coffee were served and all present had a most enjoyable and informal evening. Many out of town people from Littlelands, Sunland, La Canada, Los Angeles and Glendale attended the dedication.

W. F. Brown has started the erection of a beautiful bungalow on their property on Prospect avenue. Willis Wise has the contract for this residence as well as the new home to be built for Miss Mollie Brown, also on Prospect avenue.

Mrs. G. C. Dickerson moved to Los Angeles Monday of this week.

A. H. Shultz has been appointed janitor of the new school.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Collins of Pearce, Arizona, have moved into Mrs. Claflin's residence on Prospect avenue.

Mrs. V. B. Claflin and family motored to Sawtelle Sunday.

Miss Ada Bisbee has been visiting friends and relatives in the Orange Belt district the past couple of weeks.

LITTLELANDS

Mr. and Mrs. McGroarty have been at their cabin home on Manzenita drive for the past week or so. Mr. McGroarty has been very busy superintending the production of the posters that are to be used in connection with the Mission Play the following year. Other preparations are now going forward with celerity and this necessitates a trip to San Gabriel for one day, at least, every week, by Mr. McGroarty.

Home Croft Club

An informal but very interesting meeting of the Home Croft club was held Friday evening. The president, Mr. Ashby, read a letter from Mrs. Nanno Woods, president of the Glendale Garden society, extending an invitation to Littlelands to participate in the Free Flower Show to be held in Glendale April 21-22. This exhibit is planned for the good of the community and it is desired that the people individually or as clubs, have a display of flowers and plants at the show. On motion of Dr. Kearney it was decided to invite Mrs. Woods to deliver an address to the Home Croft club Friday evening, March 31.

Mrs. Hoffman had on display a variety of home cooked food which was all disposed of before the evening closed. Mr. Ashby expressed the wish that the home market or exchange might be revived and suggested that any who might be so disposed bring their products to the Home Croft meeting where they will probably have a ready sale.

There was some discussion on the subject of irrigation of fruit trees. It was rather the opinion of the majority that owing to the porosity of the soil it was scarcely possible to water the trees too much. It was stated that after being well watered it was better to mulch the soil rather than to cultivate so much as the mulching conserves the moisture.

Very few people in the colony have succeeded in raising satisfactory crops of peas. The green aphis are very destructive to the plants. Mr. Lewis suggested that liquid 40, a tobacco preparation, would be found to be a specific for this pest. The preparation to be used ½ pound to 40 gal. of water and used as a spray on the plants.

Various suggestions were made by different ones as to the best methods of planting cucumbers and one entirely new process was to put a slab of cactus in the ground, cover with soil and plant the cucumber seed on this, which serves both as a fertilizer and also keeps the plant moist.

It was again stated that potatoes should be covered with soil as soon as they appear above the ground. Mrs. Hoffman offered a wise suggestion as to the harvesting of potatoes. She digs the large ones and leaves the smaller ones to mature.

Mr. Ashby spoke on the subject of a Valley Fair, with all the people of the valley taking part. Mrs. Woodruff was asked to give an account of a fall flower show that had been held in her home town, and which had been a decided success, the money raised serving as a substantial nucleus for the purchase price of a tract of woodland the town wished to preserve.

Some of the people of Littlelands attended the dedication of the new school house in La Crescenta last week. Our neighbors to the east are justly proud of their achievement in building this school, which is certainly a beautiful gem of a building and one thoroughly equipped for its purpose. The influence of such a building should incite both teacher and pupils to renewed effort, and serve as an impetus along the road to knowledge.

Mrs. Dunning made a trip to Los Angeles Tuesday morning to transact some important business.

Board of Trade

The Board of Trade members held their regular meeting last Monday evening, P. J. Blake presiding. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. The treasurer made a very satisfactory report. The Transportation committee reported as follows:

To the Monte Vista Valley Board of Trade:—Just a few words as to the intentions of the new stage as regards to the matter of advertising Littlelands and Sunland and surrounding territory through which it operates. At the present time there is being printed for free distribution a beautiful eight page booklet showing photographs with reading matter covering the route from Edendale, through Tropico, Glendale, Montrose, La Crescenta, Littlelands and Sunland. The booklet is being compiled by our noted townsman, Mr. John McGroarty, this I believe will satisfy each and every one interested in the welfare of our community as to the advertising to be given the colony. One thing is certain and that is that it is the intention of the People's Stage company to do all in its power to advertise the community through which it operates. Advertising and our patronage are necessary for the stage to survive. By patronizing this new enterprise it will be successful and its success means that at some future time an electric railroad will succeed the present motor bus transportation. A railroad will put our community on the map, with freight facilities the same as all other towns of any size and importance on the coast. At Glendale the Glendale and Montrose railway has direct freight connections with both the Salt Lake and the Pacific Electric Railway Co. Car loads of freight can be shipped to all the Eastern points and markets and be dispatched much cheaper and faster, and above all more satisfactorily. This alone is worthy of serious consideration. Let's all work together and see if we cannot show the railroad people that we can support a railroad. To show the importance of good service it might be well to mention that since the operation of the new stage line we have five new families in our midst, meaning that that many houses have been rented, making business for our stores, transportation company, light and water companies and so on down the line. Our community is at the present time being advertised through the Information Bureau of the Pacific Electric Railway. Also in the folder under way. By earnest co-operation on the part of our citizens of this surrounding territory the People's Stage company, who while working jointly with the Glendale and Montrose Railway and the Pacific Electric Railway, will do much through their advertising and courteous treatment to their patrons toward bringing many new people as permanent residents of Littlelands and Sunland.

J. H. LAMSON,
Transportation Committee.

The Industrial committee reported progress. The Highway committee reported the following contemplated improvements: Summit St., the entire length through Littlelands; Los Angeles street from Palm avenue to Monte Vista; also Monte Vista east of Sunset; El Centro through the wash. They also report all concessions on the south road or Honolulu avenue have been secured except 29-100 of an acre owned by Mr. Cotrell and a committee consisting of Messrs. Fisher, Blake and Wieman were appointed to obtain that concession. Also to memorialize the road department of the county for a separate road district and to appoint G. J. Fisher road supervisor for said district. The secretary, Mr. Ashby, was instructed to communicate with the P. O. department of Los Angeles, asking for direct mail pouch, as under the present arrangement it takes two or three days to get mail from Los Angeles.

Mr. Jacob Lang, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Leo Lang and Dr. and Mrs. Kearney, drove to La Crescenta in his new auto Sunday night to attend the Echo meeting of the Laymen's Missionary Convention, which was held in the beautiful new school house in that burg.

A number of the members of the Christian Federation of Littlelands were in attendance at the meeting held in La Crescenta Sunday night to hear ex-Lieutenant Governor Wallace. Preceding Mr. Wallace, a number of the local men made telling speeches giving their impressions of the great meeting which was held in Los Angeles a short time ago. The music was good and every one enjoyed the service. Mr. Wallace is an accomplished public speaker and it is a great satisfaction to know that men of his prominence are thoroughly interested in the Christian uplift of the whole world and are actively engaged in the advancement of Christ's kingdom.

Town Meeting

The recorded rainfall of the season to date is 24.36 inches and was reported at the town meeting last Tuesday night.

An interesting article on "How to Grow Vegetables That Pay" was read by Mr. B. Clark. The cause of failure is the lack of organic matter in the soil. This the barnyard fertilizer supplies when it is available, but in our community it is impossible to obtain it in any amount. The best substitute are green crops, such as cow peas, Canada field pea, which are to be turned under and covered. The roots of the latter have the nodules that are necessary for the soil.

Mr. Darlington spoke on the refuse of the sugar beet factories as being one of the best fertilizers. During the beet season this may be obtained in large quantities for little more than it costs to carry it away.

The following program was given by the Michigan people:

Song, "Michigan"—Miss Edna May Van Batum, accompanied by Miss Bertha Fehr. "Michigan's Resources," an article read by Miss Elizabeth Brissenden. A humorous reading by Mrs. Mary Woodruff. Solo, "Indian Song," by G. C. Buck. Reading, a selection from "Hiawatha," by Mrs. D. C. Dean. Michigan University yell—Dr. Frost. There was to have been a song given by a mixed quartette but the members failed to appear except Dr. Frost, who expressed great disappointment (?) that he was thus deprived of appearing before the public. The audience also was greatly disappointed. The next program will be given by the Illinois people.

Mr. P. P. Blake was in Los Angeles last week attending the Shriners ceremonial session, which occurred last Saturday.

The Colonial Club Has an Outing

Last Thursday afternoon The Colonial club took in Ocean Park, 60 strong. Having an invitation to spend the evening in the Ocean Park dance pavillion by the management they proceeded to do so in grand style. It took all the autos available to handle the crowd, including the big stage of the Pioneer Stage line and Mr. Osborn's big truck. They were chaperoned by their president, Mrs. Woodruff, and sure had a good time.

They started their dances at 8:20 with the grand march, which was carried out without an error on anybody's part. There were 27 couples in the grand march, and 5 sets on the floor for the dancers. About 60 from the Valley were there. The good time continued until 11:30, then all departed for their home, patting themselves on the back for having been there.
